A 360-Degree
Health and Wellness Solution

The Delaney Center offers a state-of-the-art addiction treatment team operating within the Omni Wellness Group. Integrating the patent-pending "Delaney Method," the Delaney Center treats opioid- and alcohol-related addictions with a 360-degree approach that addresses the health and wellness of the addicted person and their family.

Addiction is a Treatable Disease . . .

. . . and we believe recovery is possible for everyone. It's a fact: Just like diabetes, heart disease, and other chronic conditions, addiction is a medical illness that requires professional, research-based treatment and ongoing management. If a person has high blood sugar levels, for example, they reach out to a trained professional to get their disease under control. Addiction is the same: If you are experiencing the symptoms of addiction, you need clinical assistance, compassionate support, and access to the tools and skills you'll need to manage your disease long term.

Our Approach

The Delaney Center provides a vertically aligned path to lasting recovery. We provide a full spectrum of programs, services, and support and help you choose the treatment program that's right for you. We're also here to help you make a smooth transition to your next step in your recovery journey through our seamless continuum of care. The treatment approach pairs healthcare, counseling, available housing, and supporting paraclete assistance.

The Delaney Center paraclete is your assigned advocate for support, encouragement, navigation, and expertise. The paraclete's role is to gather the resources you and your family need to address the addiction and create a path to long-term recovery. Your paraclete will be with you throughout the journey, providing guidance and support.
